RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

B.Sc. Research Topic (2018 – 2019): Assessment of Trend In Tourist Flow In Old Oyo National Park, Nigeria.

- Introduction and Objectives: This thesis aims to assess the trends in tourist flow in Old Oyo National Park, Nigeria, examining factors influencing visitor numbers and the implications for biodiversity conservation and revenue generation.
- Methodology: The study employs a combination of field surveys, interviews, and statistical analysis to collect data on tourist influx patterns, revenue generation, and the socio-economic impacts of park tourism.
- Findings and Discussion: The research reveals a stable trend in overall tourist flow to Old Oyo National Park over the years. However, it notes a decline in the number of foreign visitors, attributed to the park's failure to meet international standards of attractiveness.
- Conclusion and Recommendations: The study concludes that a thorough review of Old Oyo National Park's operational strategies is necessary to address critical challenges. Recommendations include enhancing the park's attractions and facilities to improve its appeal as a tourist destination, ultimately supporting revenue generation and biodiversity conservation efforts.
